

HESSIAN CLOTH

HESSIAN CLOTH For Curing & Tari

Hessian cloth, also known as burlap in some regions, is a coarse, woven fabric made from natural fibers, typically jute. It is most commonly used in the construction industry, gardening (for burlap sacks or plant wrapping).

It is also used to make sacks, bags, and packaging materials, especially for agricultural products like grains, potatoes, and coffee.

The fabric is durable, breathable, and biodegradable, making it an eco-friendly choice for certain applications
